

Here East

Location: Here East, Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park, London

Salary: Competitive Closing Date: 8th September 2017

Here East is an exciting new development on the Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park. The vision was to create a state-of-the-art digital campus that would become home to both large and small companies working within the technology, digital and creative sectors. Central to this vision was the clustering of world class universities, an innovation centre, TV studios and production companies, a data centre and a 1,000 capacity event space and conferencing facility; all sitting within an incredibly designed facility promoting innovation and collaboration across the site. Known as London's home for making - Here East is the place where the products and services of tomorrow will be created by some of the most exciting companies and institutions in London.

Here East is now over 70% let and we are now further developing the management team to drive forward the vision to create London's leading digital cluster.

We are looking for an exceptional and innovative Cleaning Manager to lead a first-class cleaning services team across our mixed-use estate. The person we're looking for will create a positive and inclusive team environment which allows individuals to grow and realise their potential.

It is essential that the successful individual has a 'can do' attitude, a willingness to get involved and be flexible to meet the needs of our users.

Visit hereeast.com for more information about Here East and, if you are interested in the role, please send your CV and contact details to recruitment@jpc-cleaning.com

Please note that we will endeavour to contact all applicants within 14 days. If you haven't heard from us within this period, please assume that you have been unsuccessful on this occasion.

in Partnership with

